

EDAP SUMMER TOUR SEPTEMBER 2021

3rd September 2021 | University of Applied Sciences Upper Austria, AUSTRIA
10th September 2021 | Polish Association of Human Development Psychology, POLAND
17th September 2021 | University of Stavanger, NORWAY

Because of the continued travel restrictions due to the pandemic, the EADP Summer Tour 2021 will be virtually hosted in three European countries during three consecutive Fridays in September 2021 under the overarching theme:

TO KEEP TOMORROW ALIVE

We are sure this format offers an excellent virtual opportunity for scientists to present and discuss their latest research with colleagues from different countries. The aim is to stimulate high-quality scientific exchange and particularly invites innovative and future oriented developmental researchers to present their work.

The EADP Summer Tour 2021 is open for submissions on all aspects of developmental psychology, but especially encourages contributions with the focus on:

3RD SEPTEMBER 2021

Societal challenges

organized by the University of Applied Sciences Upper, Austria

10TH SEPTEMBER 2021

Development trends: concerns and opportunities

organized by the Polish Association of Human Development Psychology, Poland

17TH SEPTEMBER 2021

Bullying: what we know and what we can do organized by the University of Stavanger, Norway

The EADP Summer Tour 2021 offers the submission of individual papers, posters, and symposia. The scientific program will also include invited keynote addresses and invited symposia from distinguished speakers.

Organizers:

Austria: The University of Applied Sciences Upper Austria focuses on application-oriented and innovative research in 17 thematic areas, and provides the private sector, associations and institutions, particularly in the social sector, with innovative products and processes. The university offers 68 internationally recognized academic degree programmes in informatics, communication & media, medical engineering & applied social sciences, business & management, and engineering.

Poland: The Polish Association of Human Development Psychology is one of the oldest psychological subdiscipline society in the country. It has over 120 members and integrates the community by organizing annual national conferences and issuing nationally renowned journal Psychologia Rozwojowa (Developmental Psychology) for almost three decades. An important area of its activities is supporting the scientific development of young researchers. We cooperate with international psychological societies, e.g. EADP and APA.

Norway: The Norwegian Centre of Learning Environment and Behavioural Research in Education (Centre for Learning Environment) at the University of Stavanger (Norway) is both a research centre and a National Education Centre assisting the educational authorities in providing a healthy and positive learning environment to children and youth. Centre for Learning Environment is specialized in research on bullying and in implementing anti-bullying interventions.

We are very much looking forward to your submissions,

Dagmar Strohmeier (Austria)

Katarzyna Markiewicz & Beata Krzywosz-Rynkiewicz (Poland)

Simona C.S. Caravita (Norway)
