APPLICATION FOR THE SUSPENSION OF A MASTER'S THESIS

FHG 19 (3) A master's thesis that has received a positive assessment shall be published by lodging it with the library of the university of applied sciences. On lodging a master's thesis with a library, the author shall be entitled to apply for access to the copies deposited with the library to be withheld for a maximum of five years from the time of submission. Such applications shall be approved, if the student establishes that important legal or business interests of the student would be materially endangered by permitting access.

When submitting the Master's thesis, a corresponding application for suspension for a period of up to 5 years must be submitted. This application must be justified in detail. The respective supervisor must give an opinion on this application. The decision is incumbent on the head of the degree programme.

The restricted works may neither be made publicly available in the library nor borrowed directly or via interlibrary loan during the suspension period. The library copies are kept locked in a suitable separate room until the end of the embargo period. The supervisors are responsible for ensuring that the copies remaining with you are carefully stored and cannot be lent or accessed by third parties. The supervisors can also hand over their specimen copies to the library for safekeeping and they will be returned to them after the expiry of the embargo period. After expiry of the embargo period, the Master's thesis is made publicly accessible.

As a public teaching and research institution, the FH Upper Austria is called upon to publish its achievements within the framework of its contest with its competitors. Last but not least, the awarding of research funding is also made dependent on the number and quality of the activities - including master's theses - of the submitting institutions. For this reason, it is important for the University of Applied Sciences Upper Austria to have access to master's theses to demonstrate its scientific performance.
